

Charity: Locks Of Love

Locks of Love is a fantastic charity to donate to. There are three main reasons I believe you should give to Locks of Love. Locks of Love is a nation-wide charity that donates hair and wigs to people who don't have hair.

You should donate money because first off, it makes people who get the hair or wig form a smile and they may then feel very joyful and thankful! The world would be a much better place if people were more joyful, thankful, and happy. So many people are mad and very unhappy because they don't have hair. Another reason I picked Locks of Love is because most of the people they donate to are girls. I know that hair, to girls, is a very valuable possession. It will make you be their hero if you donate money and that money provides them hair. Everyone wants to be a hero.

The last reason why you will be glad that you donated money to Locks of Love is that it makes you feel happy and proud of yourself, I know this because I donated Eleven inches of my hair to Locks of Love and it made me feel beyond happy. One month later, I got a letter from the person I donated my hair to, It felt amazingly wonderful. I was a really touching letter. I felt so proud that I made somebody happy. Here is my hair donation.

Here is why Locks of Love is a good charity to donate money to.
